

Have you ever shared a straw of cocaine? I did.
One night 20 years ago.
There was a party. My friends were passing it around.
I did a line or two. Ok so it was more like 10.
I never did it again or even thought about it.
Not until a year ago when I found out that I have Hepatitis C.
Probably from that little straw.
I started to treat my Hepatitis C and I know I have a chance to overcome it.
So take a tip from me and get tested.
Because the sooner you know the sooner you can do something about it.
